This City's Centre launch at RAMM

A new digital artwork that captures the views of Exeter residents drew more than 100 people to its official launch at RAMM's Central Courtyard recently. This City's Centre 1: Window, the first part of a digital triptych about Exeter produced by Devon-based art collective Blind Ditch, is a video/sound installation that offers a contemporary portrait of the city and the people who live here. Guests enjoyed drinks and lively conversation while getting a first look at the artwork, which is at RAMM until September 22. For more details visit www.thiscitycentre.net
